

Highlands County Historic Preservation Commission Vacancy

The Highlands County Board of County Commissioners is seeking applications for membership on the Historic Preservation Commission (HPC). The Board will consider interested applicants from the following disciplines: architecture, landscape architecture, accounting, building design, history, architectural history, planning, archaeology, real estate development, law, building construction or other historic preservation related disciplines, such as urban planning, American studies, American civilization, cultural geography or cultural anthropology. In the absence of the availability or willingness of such professionals, lay persons shall be appointed to the professional positions if they have demonstrated special interest, experience or knowledge in history, architecture or related disciplines. The HPC meets the 2nd Thursday of every other month beginning in January, and volunteers serve 4-year terms.

Applicants may submit an application on the County website, www.hbcc.net, or by stopping by the Planning Department at 501 S. Commerce Avenue, Sebring.
